

Marcia Levy, Immediate Past Chair

Term expires December 31, 2017

Ms. Levy was most recently a venture partner of Venture TDF and Vertex Management, venture capital firms based in Singapore, working with US, European and Asian start-up companies. She was CEO of The Learning Company and Vice President of Regis McKenna, Inc and was an executive at J. Walter Thompson and Procter and Gamble. While living in Silicon Valley, she also was an advisor to technology companies focusing on marketing, strategy and organizational development. A graduate of the University of Michigan, she has graduate degrees from Stanford University and Santa Clara University.

Ten years ago Marcia and her husband, Jim, moved to Sonoma where her community involvement has included the boards of The Sonoma Valley Film Society, Sonoma Jazz+ and the Sonoma Valley Museum of Art. She also has volunteered with La Luz and the Mentoring Alliance.

While living on the Peninsula, Marcia served on the boards of the Canter Arts Center, Stanford University Hospital, The Health Library, Palo Alto Medical Foundation Research Institute, Children's Health Council, Breast Cancer Connections, and Planned Parenthood. She also served on the General Plan Committee for the town of Atherton.