News From Sonoma Valley Hospital Foundation

March 2018

Greetings!

AN AFFILIATE OF UCSF HEALTH

SVH Affiliation with UCSF Is A Big Deal For Sonoma

Many of you, by now, have seen the exciting news of the affiliation Sonoma Valley Hospital has created with UCSF.

The affiliation aims to improve health care in the Sonoma community by combining the expertise and resources of UCSF Health - the top-ranked medical center in California and one of the top five hospitals nationwide - and the community care focus of SVH to provide a top-quality continuum of care for Sonoma residents.

For more information on this new partnership please see Kelly Mather's blog here, and UCSF's press release here.

It's Here! 3D Mammography Open For Patients At SVH

We are incredibly pleased to (at long last) be able to announce that 3D mammography is available to our patients at SVH starting next week!

Generous donations made in 2015/16 allowed for the purchase of the state-of-the-art equipment. After construction delays, and subsequent Health Department regulatory delays, we are excited to be offering this service to the women of our community.

Thanks to ongoing community support for Project Pink, all women will have access to this new technology regardless of their insurance coverage or ability to pay.

Consult with your physician for referrals and appointments.

Celebration of Women Close to Selling Out!

The 2018 Celebration of Women event on May 10th is honoring Maggie Haywood and Nancy Lilly with this year's Pulse Award. Proceeds from the event support Women's Health and Wellness services at Sonoma Valley Hospital.
